C7/41(4)

George Fordyce Story, one of the Society of Friends having made the usual affirmation solemnly & sincerely declares as follows: I am a legally qualified Medical Practitioner I reside at Kelvedon District of Great Swan Port & Spring Bay. I first saw deceased Thomas Jollands at his Masters Residence Swanwick on the afternoon of the Eleventh Instant: he was then labouring under severe inflammation of the Abdomen which had evidently gone beyond relief and I suspected ~~some~~ a rupture had taken place in some of the internal parts as the only cause of accounting for the severity of the symptoms. I bled him and administered some medicine but saw that recovery was hopeless. - I left Swanwich the same Evening. and did not see the deceased Thomas Jollands again alive -

I have this day examined the Body of the deceased Thomas Jollands. and the appearances were as follows. On the back of the left thigh there was a bruise three inches in length as if the part had been struck by a stick or some such instrument. Across the buttocks and Loins there were several marks of bruises caused in the same manner as those on the thigh but more severe & had been repeated one upon the other so that the injuries had extended to the Spinal Marrow; the Spinal marrow of the Loins being surrounded with fluid blak blood -- The Brain was healthy.

C7/41(4)

but the membranes with which it is enveloped were in a state of venous congestion, and there was a more than healthy quantity of fluid in the cavities of the Brain. On opening the Abdomen that cavity was found filled with a dark yellow liquor - and on examining the bladder it was found to be completely empty and on its upper part a small tumor observable white in the co[illegible] its circum-
-fe[illegible] soft in texture
[illegible]der pressure
[illegible]troducing a [illegible] penis into [illegible]g in the [illegible] was discovered
[illegible]wine mush
[illegible]e Abdomen
[illegible]iolent
[illegible] Abdomen

[illegible] labouring
the [illegible]

[illegible]der had [illegible] some time previous to the [illegible]llands and [illegible]ed on the [illegible]ture of [illegible] the cause
[illegible]e deceased

[illegible]
Thom