

John A. Taylor,
Daniel Greenleaf Thompson,
Herbert W. Taylor.

Taylor & Thompson,
Attorneys & Counselors at Law,
111 Broadway (Trinity Building)

New York, May 13th, 1897.

Hon. A. Inglis Clark,
Windsor Hotel,
Fifth Ave., N.Y. City.

My dear Mr. Clark:-

I have been looking for you and have only just come into the office late to find that I have missed you. I was at the Bar Association all the forenoon and did not get your kind invitation to lunch in season to avail myself of it. I had hoped to get up town in time to see you this afternoon but may not be able to do so. Mrs. Thompson will be very glad indeed to see Mrs. Clark to-morrow at about half past One o'clock, if that will suit your wife, and I hope you will be able to call also. I am sorry you are leaving so soon, for I have seen very little of you. Perhaps you will get a chance to run into the office in the afternoon. Philadelphia will stay where it is for a day or two more, and if so, I presume it will be no serious matter if you shouldn't get away to-morrow. If you do not, perhaps you and I can arrange to spend the evening together somewhere to your liking.

Very faithfully yours,

Daniel G. Thompson