ANNUAL REPORT.

In accordance with Rule 39, the Council present a Report on the proceedings of the Society during the year 1914.

The Council and Officers.

At the Annual General Meeting, held on 23rd March, the following were elected members of the Council for the year:—The Hon. G. H. Butler, Dr. A. H. Clarke, Professor T. Thomson Flynn, B.Sc., Mr. L. F. Giblin, B.A., Dr. J. L. Glasson, B.A., D.Sc., Mr. J. A. Johnson, M.A., Dr. Fritz Noetling, Mr. E. L. Piesse, B.Sc., LL.B., and Mr. Leonard Rodway.

The Council at its first meeting elected Dr. Butler to be its Chairman, and appointed Mr. Piesse to be Honorary Secretary, and Mr. Rodway to be Honorary Treasurer. On the death of Dr. Butler in July, Dr. Clarke was elected Chairman for the remainder of the year.

The Council elected Drs. Butler, Clarke, and Noetling, Professor Flynn, Mr. Piesse, and Mr. Rodway to be Trustees of the Tasmanian Museum and Botanical Gardens during the current year.

Seven ordinary meetings and one special meeting of the Council were called in the period from the Annual Meeting to the end of the year. The attendances of members were as follow:—Dr. Butler (died 15th July), 5; Dr. Clarke, 8; Professor Flynn, 3; Mr. Giblin, 5; Dr. Glasson, 6; Mr. Johnson, 6; Dr. Noetling, 6; Mr. Piesse, 8; Mr. Rodway, 7.

Meetings of the Society.

Five Monthly General Meetings of the Society and one Special General Meeting (immediately following the Annual Meeting) were held during the year. During the later part of the year the war occupied the attention of some members who had promised papers, and several were engaged in military service, and the Council therefore recommended that three of the Ordinary Monthly Meetings be allowed to lapse. Six papers were read during the session, and several addresses were given by members.

Members.

During the year 10 candidates were elected to the Society, of whom 9 accepted the obligations of membership. The Society lost 32 members through death, resignation, or change of residence. The number of ordinary members at the end of the year was 134. There were also 8 members who have compounded their subscriptions for life, 4 honorary members, and 15 corresponding members.

Obituary notices of the deceased members will be found at the end of the Report.

Papers and Proceedings.

The additional exchanges which have been arranged have again necessitated a larger edition of the "Papers and Proceedings," and the Council ordered 650 copies for 1914.

Catalogue of Periodicals.

Early in the year the Council resolved to undertake the preparation of a union-catalogue of the periodicals in the libraries in Tasmania. This proposal was brought to the notice of the managing bodies and librarians of the various libraries, and all of them very courteously assisted the Council by supplying lists of the periodicals in their collections. The catalogue has been compiled in manuscript from these lists, and from the recently-completed catalogue of the Society's library.

It is believed that the catalogue includes all important collections in Tasmania which are available to the public. The Council hopes that in thus bringing together a catalogue of the resources of the various libraries, the Society may lighten the work of those who have to consult periodical publications.

The catalogue came to the notice of the Chief Secretary, the Honourable J. E. Ogden, towards the end of the year, and he has been able to arrange that funds shall be provided by the Government for printing it. The Council feels that the thanks of the Society are due to the Government for sanctioning an expenditure which will make the catalogue more readily available for members, as well as accessible to the public.

The catalogue includes periodical publications of all kinds, except newspapers published in Tasmania. It is proposed to include the latter in a separate catalogue, which will include the principal collections in other countries in which Tasmanian newspapers are to be found. Materials for the catalogue of newspapers have been obtained from many libraries in Australia, New Zealand, and England, as well as from libraries in Tasmania.

It is hoped that particulars of other collections may be obtained during 1915, and the catalogue completed.

The Library.

The stock-taking of the library, which was commenced in 1913, was completed early in the year. The number of books and pamphlets in the library at the end of 1913 was found to be 10,359; and there were over 300 maps, about 500 newspapers, and about 400 manuscripts, prints, etc.

During the year 956 books and pamphlets were received, making a total of 11,315 in the library on 31st December, 1914, besides 1,267 maps, newspapers, manuscripts, etc. Most of the accessions were obtained by presentation in exchange for the Society's publications. The presentations during the year were of a published value of about £290.

An author-catalogue of the library was prepared during the year.

Owing to the large proportion of the Society's income which was required to meet the great increase in the cost of printing the "Papers and Proceedings," the Council was able to sanction only a small expenditure on the library. It was not possible to make much progress with the arrears of binding, but the Council hopes that some funds may be available for this purpose during the coming year.

A large number of new exchanges were arranged during the year, and the number of institutions, etc., on the Society's distribution list at the end of the year was 214. Presentations were made by 222 institutions, etc., and several made special presentations to complete the series of their publications in the library. The number of periodicals of which current numbers are received by the Society is now about 330.

The Objects of the Society.

At a Special Meeting following the Annual Meeting, the Council proposed to the Society that its objects should be extended to include all branches of knowledge. A memorandum submitted by the Council in support of this proposal is printed in the "Abstract of Proceedings." The proposal received the unanimous support of the members present, and the necessary alteration was made in the Rules.

Government Grant to the Society.

The Council brought to the notice of the Government the desirability of assisting scientific workers in Tasmania by a grant to the Society in aid of the printing of its "Papers and Proceedings." The Council is pleased to report that a grant of £100, for the State financial year 1914-15, has been made.

Psychology and Education Section.

Four meetings of the Psychology and Education Section were held during the year; the average attendance of members was nine.

Mr. L. H. Lindon was elected Chairman of the Section, and Mr. J. A. Johnson Secretary. The members who took part in the meetings of the Section were Messrs. W. C. Annells, G. V. Brooks, S. Clemes, W. H. Clemes, L. Dechaineux, S. R. Dickinson, L. F. Giblin, J. A. Johnson, L. H. Lindon, E. Morris Miller, P. H. Mitchell, R. C. Stephens, Gordon Wood, and Walter Wright.

The following papers were read and discussed:—

1. "Spatial Perception." By L. Dechaineux.
2. "Memory." By L. H. Lindon.
3. "The Evolution of Educational Theory." By S. R. Dickinson.

Obituary Notices.

REV. F. H. BARING, M.A., F.R.G.S.

Rev. F. H. Baring, M.A., F.R.G.S., was elected a life member in 1907. He resided at Triabunna. He died in New Zealand in September, 1914.

THE HON. G. H. BUTLER, M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., M.L.C., 1854-1914.

The Honourable Gamaliel Henry Butler was a son of the Honourable Henry Butler, a member of the House of Assembly, and some time its Speaker. He was educated at the High School at Hobart, and in London, where he qualified as a medical practitioner. He afterwards returned to Hobart and practised there until his death.

Dr. Butler was elected to the Legislative Council in 1896, and from 1909 until a few months before his death he was Chief Secretary of Tasmania. He was a member of many public and semi-public bodies, and he gave much of his time to the service of the community.

In 1896, on the formation of the Medical Section (now the Tasmanian Branch of the British Medical Association), Dr. Butler became a member of the Society, and in 1901 he was elected to the Council. In 1911 the Council chose him to be its Chairman, and in the same year he was elected Chairman of the Trustees of the Tasmanian Museum and Botanical Gardens. He rarely missed a meeting of either body, and his colleagues owed much to his kindly and expeditious conduct of their affairs, and to the wise advice which his wide experience frequently enabled him to give.

LIEUT.-COLONEL RICHARD CHARLES LEWIS, D.S.O., 1862-1914.

Lieut.-Colonel Lewis, who was born in Hobart in 1862, was engaged for the greater part of his life in commercial pursuits in Southern Tasmania. He served in the South African War in command of a company of the Imperial Bushmen, raised in Tasmania, and saw much active service and hard fighting. For his services he was awarded the Distinguished Service Order, and was promoted to the rank of major. The doings of the force with which he served were recorded in a book, "On the Veldt," which he published in Hobart in 1902. He was elected a member of the Society in the same year.

THE HON. JAMES MACFARLANE, 1844-1914.

Mr. Macfarlane was born in Scotland. He came to Tasmania in 1870, and engaged in shipping. Mr. Macfarlane was elected to the Federal Senate in 1901, and again in 1903, and he occupied his seat until 1910. He was elected to the Society in 1870.

ARTHUR AUGUSTUS STEPHENS, B.A., 1867-1914.

Mr. Stephens was for many years principal of Queen's College, Hobart, and at the time of his death he was vice-master of Hutchins School. He was a very successful teacher. He became a member of the Society in 1911, and took much interest in the meetings of the Psychology and Education Section.

ALEXANDER GEORGE WEBSTER, 1830-1914.

Mr. Alexander George Webster was born in London in 1830, and came to Tasmania when only 10 years of age. Mr. Webster was occupied in commercial pursuits for the greater part of his life, and was one of the most successful merchants in Tasmania.

Mr. Webster was elected to the Society in 1865, and in 1871 he became a member of the Council. He served on the Council until 1907, and for several years before his retirement he was a Vice-President. He was also a Trustee of the Tasmanian Museum and Botanical Gardens, and after his retirement from the Council he retained a seat as Crown Trustee. He was Chairman of the Trustees for some years, and took especial interest in the management of the Botanical Gardens.

Mr. Webster was for some time Master Warden of the Marine Board of Hobart. He also served on several other public bodies.
