

C O N T E N T S.

| | Page |
|---|------|
| 1. On the Heavy Fall of Rain at Hobart Town on the 25th and 26th February, 1854, with reference to the Sewerage and Drainage, &c., of the City. By His Excellency Sir W. T. Denison, F.R.S., &c. &c. &c. | 1 |
| 2. On the Best Method of Relaxing Dried Skins, &c. By William Swainson, Esq., F.R.S. and L.S., &c. | 6 |
| 3. On Tasmanian Statistics for the Decennial Period 1844 to 1853, &c. By James Barnard, Esq. | 9 |
| 4. On the Characters of Astele , a New Division in the Family of Trochinae , or Trochiform Shells, &c. By William Swainson, Esq., F.R.S. | 36 |
| 5. On the Characters of Amphibious Volutes allied to the genus Melampus , &c. By William Swainson, Esq., F.R.S. | 42 |
| 6. On Australian Haliotidæ , or Ear-shells, &c. By William Swainson, Esq., F.R.S. | 46 |
| 7. On the Encroachments of the Sea along the North Coast of Tasmania, &c. By R. C. Gunn, Esq., F.R.S. | 54 |
| 8. On Australian Entomostracans, &c. By the Reverend R. L. King, B.A., Sydney. | 56 |
| 9. On the Potato Grub of Tasmania. By Captain H. Berthon, H.E.I.C.S. | 76 |
| 10. On a Specimen of Shark in the Museum of the Royal Society of Van Diemen's Land. By A. Cross, Esq., R.N. | 81 |
| 11. On the Trigonometrical Survey of Van Diemen's Land. By Major Cotton, H.E.I.C.S., Deputy Surveyor-General | 82 |
| 12. On the Combustible Schist of the Mersey River, Tasmania. By Professor Penny, of the Andersonian University, Glasgow | 108 |
| 13. On the Geological Relations of some of the Coal Seams of Van Diemen's Land, &c. &c. By Alfred R. C. Selwyn, Esq., Government Geologist, Victoria | 116 |
| 14. List of the Birds of Tasmania. By the Reverend T. J. Ewing, of New Town | 142 |
| Proceedings at Monthly Evening Meetings | 156 |
