Set off from Adelaide yesterday 7^{1/2} forenoon after taking leave of our kind friends the Peacocks I dined about the whole of the day to ascertain whether the job which would sail down the was cleared at the Customs but learnt that any attempt was made by another party to obtain her for the price of an anchor Hable which was held as a bottomry bond. With her owners refused to pay in the end we succeeded where our voyage on Board Cap it returning to York Calways to Sea we went on board at 7. AM. & found our Luggage down the ~~staircase~~ or hold ~~below~~ and one on board below 9th the Debel except the Steward & a crew man who had come in her from Maritius Venetico's share & leg. lands at Swan River said he had taken his property to Luncheon to obtain a vessel to Sw. R. the old mate of the ship & another person came on board whilst we were there we having requested to see our Cabin found it full of rats. & that there was no getting into it & the steward having made J. G. bed in the upper berth then my telling him the upper berth wished someone made in the upper berth of another Cabin he turned round & began doing something else involving to himself I therefore spoke to J. G. who was in Deck & as such conducted as likely to increase rather than diminish when we got to sea & the Cabin not being ready for us according to agreement, not the vessel, likely to sail, there being no crew, the one being in the ed & not yet paid & the other not having come on board - & everything on board being in the utmost confusion, that in order to any one in authority we determined to leave the vessel at once and to go on board I. M. went to seek a Boat which we procured with some difficulty, and we got our things out the boat away we could make the two boats refusing to take the young man on board, being out a little distance (about a Bow) to the Vengate on the way at P. M. each - it was not until afternoon that we set sail - from the point of the mouth five or six miles to the mouth The wind being to the east we could go no farther - the next morning we able to get over the bar the wind however eddies & runs up after getting across into the Gulf it was too much to I were tacked to enable us to weather Stephens Point beyond Stephens Point the country is higher than we had thought but it was the the Sea was behind it on the Coast are the red & yellow cliffs we are most likely formed of this Clay stone of Port Phillip - beyond this is the the Sea thro' which the bounding a ground perceptible. we crossed the bay to Cape Jervis the Coast is elevated with high but the mountains do not extend out any distance so that being out at sea as we are it seems one day from Stephens Point to Cape Jervis. We had several tracks to make before we weathered Stephens Point but we did about midday but the wind became more foul & strong 8 1/2 or 9 we had a squall on 10th of 10 1/2 the wind freshened more ready
