My dear Sir,

I am aware that you have been under the consideration of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the conduct of Col. Closter in the purchase of my presents, called Cattle Green; and, therefore, I am desirous of placing in your hands, papers and documents, which I believe calculated to confirm the statement you have made to the three authorities upon the subject."

The letter signed by the President of the East India Company, "sir, am I told,” and published by the Government prints, in the Emir Musul's letter, is a copy of the letter which was addressed to me by the said Buss, at the instance of the Emir Musul."

The letter was translated and published before it was transmitted to me, and I called upon the
the Government to explain why, to change a decision from official usage should have taken place. But, so notice had been taken of my application, which, together with other circumstances, made me to suppose the letter was published for a political purpose, and although addressed to me, was intended to meet the eye of the Secretary of State.

I will find in the "Political Times," and the "National," a letter addressed to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, by my friend Mr. Fothergill, which contains all the facts and circumstances connected with the Chancellor's notice of my speech.

So that it may be understood, that I am to write Council, in the last sentence, as general one of the letter, but really in the context of the statement, and is because of the document bearing my signature and time attached thereto.

The manner in which Council.
respected family of the proprietors was not improper, and that as I cannot well characterize it.

At my time of life, for six or seven years of age, I cannot undertake the task of mind, which would be occasioned by referring to the treatment I have experienced at the British Government. But let it be, with patience, once more triumphant in its consequences. Daring the course of a true life, I have met with no such character as the debtor, and for the sake of human nature do not think you will object.

I am assured you have my best wishes, and I am confident, if truth is not too painful, for the remarkable cunning, extreme caution, and direct determination of your affections, that we will attain justice for the loss of our state for the cruel persecution you have suffered.

remain
Your faithfully,

R. H. Harris. Wood
