I. Inglis Clarke, Esq.

Dear Sir:

I write in a letter which I recently received from my father. He asked me to send you this regards and a handkerchief similar to his. I find it much easier to send it the former, as I have hunted all over New York but cannot reduplicate his handkerchief, so I have enclosed a small American flag instead.

The newspaper which I send is a fair sample of one of the Sunday editions of our great New York dailies, and of which we feel I think, justly proud. Hoping that both will reach you in good condition. I remain

Very sincerely yours

Geo. E. Crump,
