THE HARVARD LAW REVIEW ASSOCIATION
CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

November 21, 1905.

Hon. Justice A. Inglis Clark,
Judges Chambers, Hobart,
Tasmania.

Dear Sir:

We beg to thank you for the remittance of $ 6.09 which we recently received through our Dean Ames. We thank you, also, for your interest in the Review and your more than prompt payment of subscription dues. As your account was already credited to April, 1906, and with an extra credit of 29 cents, this recent payment of $6.09 settles your account to April, 1907 with a balance credit in your favor of $3.48 or a little more than another year's subscription to the Review, after that time, approximately to June, 1908. We thank you for the remittance, as we said above, and trust that your interest in our periodical will not cease with your active labours on the Bench.

Our Editor-in-Chief, is, we believe, looking forward to a contribution from your pen at no very distant date.

With expressions of the deepest respect we beg to remain,

Very faithfully yours
