Camerton, March 21.

My dear Clark:

Many thanks for your kindness in sending on the letter & papers.
I shall leave Tasmania today with very pleasant memories of the good nature of those whose acquaintance I have been privileged to make during my short stay

I with the hope of meeting you & others again both in Sydney & Hobart. I had had a healthful & jolly time.
My sister must have been dreadfully disappointed to find that I had flitted from Hobart. I offered to go with her via Melbourne if she could make up her mind to travel to New Zealand by way of the two capitals but time to her see the halted between the indirect & direct route till I had gone.

I can only hope that the run from Cape Pillans & the fracture of Hobart at the feet of the Sulphur hills was as marvellously beautiful to her as it was to me with heartiest wishes for the success of your political & professional future & with the hope that the radicalism of your Saturday columns will never unduly exhaust your intellect.

Believe me

Very faithfully yours

J. W. Ward.
