

Microfilm copy of original manuscripts in the possession of Mrs A. Moase of Hobart.
Access: microfilm may be used by researchers (acknowledgement for any use made in a publication to be made to Mrs Moase)

BROUGHTON PAPERS (MOASE COLLN.)
1839-1852

Microfilm copy only. Note this microfilm was made in the 1950s or 1960s and is in very poor condition. Some parts may be illegible, especially as the original documents were in poor condition.

William Grant Broughton (1788-1853), Bishop of Australia, was appointed Archdeacon of Australia 1829 and became Bishop in 1836.

The papers include correspondence with Bishop Selwyn of New Zealand 1845; correspondence with Bishop William Tyrrell (1807-1879) of Newcastle 1848 - 1852 (15 letters); letters written to others and some letters received, including Rev. R. Allwood, Joshua Watson, NSW Government officials etc.

The original manuscripts were found by Godfrey Moase in a house he bought in Davey Street, Hobart, but the papers relate mainly to New Zealand and New South Wales not Tasmania, except for one letter from Bishop Nixon of Tasmania 1847.

(1 reel 35mm microfilm)

(1 duplicate copy)