

Presented by J. R. Low

J. W. GRAVES

John Woodcock Graves (1795-1886) was born in Cumberland, U.K., and emigrated to Tasmania in 1834. He is chiefly remembered for the song 'D'ye ken John Peel' which he wrote to a traditional Cumberland air.

- ✓ 1 'John Peel, a Cumbrian song', <sup>also</sup> with notes signed by John Woodcock Graves 2 March 1869.
Another song is written on the back of one of the papers
(2 papers) RS.130/1 a,b
- ✓ 2 Programme for the unveiling of memorial to Graves in St. David's Park, Hobart. 31 Oct. 1958
Also a page of notes on Graves.
(2 papers) RS.130/2