

B A S S S S T R A I T

The tide in the River Derwent is very irregular, being much affected by the winds; the highest never exceeding four feet in twelve hours. In the Bay of Launceston it rises fourteen feet.

TRANSYLVANIA

MAP of the Settled Part of
VAN DIEMEN'S LAND
Copied from a Map in possession of
HIS EXCELLENCY
COLONEL GEORGE ARTHUR
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR of the ISLAND and its Dependencies, &c &c.
Drawn by
THO^o SCOTT ESQ^r Ass^t Surveyor General
HOBART TOWN
Reduced Engraved Printed and Published by James West August 1830

The different colours represent the several Divisions. The Courts of the Divisions, Magistrates' who are also Coroners and Commissioners of the Courts of Requests being held in the respective Divisions. The Territory belonging to the Van Diemen's Land Company is not yet settled, only known to enable the Publisher to define its exact limits. District boundaries distinguished by Roads, Bridges and Dockyards that suggested Rivers course blue. The distance is measured in Miles from Hobart Town.

SCALE
of British
Natural Miles 1760 Yards each 691 to a Degree