

I sent your Report re Fremas

HAGEN SMITH & GILL, SOLICITORS.

48 Temple Court, Melbourne,

24 Nov 1886

My dear Andrew,

I have only just learned some bad particulars of the misfortune (I cannot call it anything else) which has overtaken my brother.
I am both alarmed & grieved & I trust you will be able to relieve my anxiety by telegram or by letter that the worst is not to be feared. It seem to me from what I can learn that things have come to this wretched pass by the preachery of Henry & the supineness of Ball & that it may go hard with the latter.

Do you think I could be of any assistance in the matter?

I write in the thick of business & in greatest haste - Ever thine affly
