My dear Clark

I hope you will make up your mind to come to Sydney. There are a good many things of importance which I should like to have the chance of discussing with you and on which there is a plentiful lack of knowledge amongst those ought to know. I think the Letters Patent and Instructions to the Governor General, which have just arrived, should be carefully considered before determining what should be done with reference to the opening of Parliament.

I propose to arrive in Sydney on the 28th.

Yours very truly
S. W. Griffith
