LAUNCESTON: YORK STREET CHAPEL (Rev. Henry Dowling)

DEDICATION REGISTER OF THE REV HENRY DOWLING
BAPTIST MINISTER OF YORK ST CHAPEL, LAUNCESTON 1840-1867

The following list is from the Dedication Register of the Rev Dowling who arrived in Van Diemen's Land on 2 December, 1834. Dowling worked here for thirty three years journeying south from Launceston to Hobart Town every quarter to attend to the Baptist chapel in Harrington Street. On these journeys he preached the gospel literally from house to house and so became well known to the people of the colony.

Mr L.F. Rowston of 3 Portsea Place, Howrah, is working on the story of Dowling and his chapel and would welcome any information on the parents listed in this register.

HOBART BAPTIST CHURCH

Including the first Baptist Chapel in Harrington Street 1843 - 1884 and the new church established in 1884 with a new church building (The Hobart Tabernacle) built in Elizabeth Street in 1887.

BAPTIST CHAPEL, HARRINGTON STREET, HOBART

This chapel was opened on 21 March 1841 at the corner of Harrington and Goulburn Streets, by Rev. Henry Dowling, who arrived in Hobart in 1835 from Colchester, England. He established a Baptist congregation with chapels in Launceston (1840) and Hobart and was pastor at Launceston until his death in 1869. Ministers in Hobart were: Samuel Hewlett (until 1849), William R. Wade (c 1849-52), Kerr Johnston (c 1853 -1857), Dixon Davis (c 1858-60), Evan Jones (c 1874-1879), A. W. Grant (1879), Isaac H. Palfreyman (1883), Edwin Tucker (1884). The later ministers stayed only short periods and many were elderly. Dixon Davis died in 1861 attended by Dr. Crowther, and the accounts record the erection of a headstone on Evan Jones' grave (d. 1879). There were many periods without a minister, especially after 1860, when services were taken by members of the congregation, with occasional visits by Rev. Henry Dowling from Launceston, or later W. Clark from Perth. It is noticeable that the collection increased when Mr Dowling visited. About 1883 I. H. Palfreyman acted as minister for a short time but he later built an independent chapel in King Street, described as "non-denominational". Edwin Tucker served in 1885 but there was little money to support him. In 1884 Rev. R. McCullough, from Longford, had come to Hobart and established a new congregation, first in the Exhibition Building, then in a temporary chapel in Elizabeth Street until the big new Tabernacle in Elizabeth Street was completed in 1887.

MARRIAGE REGISTER

Register of Marriages 2 Jan. 1847 - 23 Oct. 1884

Standard marriage register with entries in ruled columns (but no printed headings) of: number, date, when married and where, names, ages, rank (ie. occupation), signature and description (ie. single or widowed), place and rites (ie. Baptist) and signatures of the married couple, witnesses and officiating minister. 35 marriages were entered but none between 1860 and 1874. All parties and witnesses were able to sign their own names and none only made a mark. Marriages took place in the Baptist Chapel, the Minister's House or the house of the bride's father.

Ministers signing were: Samuel Hewlett (1847-8), William R. Wade (1849-51), Kerr Johnston (1854-56), Dixon Davis (1859), Evan Jones (1874-77), A.W. Grant (1879), I. H. Palfreyman (1883) and Edwin Tucker (1884).

At the front is stuck a copy of a circular from the Registrar of Births, Marriages and Deaths, c 1884 about quarterly returns, and also a copy of the form of declaration of "no impediment" and the form of marriage declaration.
(1 vol, index of names made on cards)

Marriage Affidavits 1877 - 1884

Declarations of no impediment to marriage. Also enclosed affidavit, marriage return and licences 1859, 1874.

£10 . 1s (29 aug. 1868). The Baptist Cemetery required attention in 1882 and 10s was "paid labourer for improving the entrance to cemetery, New Town". In 1880 a headstone over the grave of the minister, Evan Jones, cost £2. Dr. Crowther's account for attendance on the late Rev. D. Davis in 1861 was £1 . 15s.

Receipts were received from collections, Lord's Supper and morning and evening "boxes" (usually between 5s and 16s, although it increased when Mr Dowling was present). The quarterly collection and ordinance was 5 . 4s . 3d in March 1861. A "tea meeting" on 28 November 1862 raised £9. There were also rents received for the use of the chapel and school room. In 1857 £1 . 12s was received "from the Presbyterians for 4 weeks rent of the Baptist Chapel and in April 1871 £1 was received from the Rechabites for 3 months. When there was no resident minister the chapel house was also leased for about £2 . 8s for 4 weeks. For 1884-7 receipts were mainly rents for the cottage and schoolroom. Lessors included a phrenological class and the "Good Templars Lodge". Payments for advertising the cottage and chapel to let were, however, paid to the Building Society.

WARE STREET UNDENOMINATIONAL MISSION

A mission hall was opened in Ware Street (later Feltham Street) by a small band of workers. An evening service and Sunday school held every Sunday and a Christian Endeavour Society and other activities took place some evenings. Poor homes were visited and parcels of clothing, books, groceries, milk, eggs, vegetables, etc. given to the needy and small Christmas gifts for the children. Miss R. Livingstone was the Superintendent, Mrs. J.W. Hawkes treasurer and Mr and Mrs J.T. Soundy, R.J. Soundy, and others, regular helpers and teachers. Supporters included Clemes College, whose scholars gave a Christmas party for the children, Messrs. Gibson who donated bags of flour for distribution, Sandy Bay Baptists, Rex Townley, etc.
