L1/8, 1847

Sir,

The public papers will have informed you of the sale of our new little property at Brooks—and I know you have heard that it was bought for the family of Dr. Norman—and that we are now the tenantry of that house. The partners, you may have also heard that Poole, who has a property of his own, bought the whole of the stock so that we needed to come on the farm—but in consequence of two vendees whose letters here who came in pursuit to run up the stock—the limit exceeded our calculation—and makes it inexpedient to purchase 400 Ends—to pay stock the debt. If you know of any person who are overstocked or who would sell that much on a liberal deal. Poole would be responsible—we will have the whole stock ready for the limit and pay the bills when at maturity—you will serve us much if you can in any way negotiate this matter. I hope to hear Mr. Lemon and family are well to whom I am and our circle, attached to be kindly remembered.

Yours truly,
