Let me thank you,
 dear Dr. Stoy, for your kind ^{letter} ~~copy~~.
 When the Stipa
 comes in flower
 with you again,
 I can easily identify
 the species, if sent.
 I think, that I told you already of my having forwarded a
 new copy to the R.
 of your island, in
 which our name as
 the finders of these plants frequently appears.

Would you not make known through a Dobarton paper
the great success you
had with the Cinchona plant. It would also show
the people in what direction I was working here, when I
had the means of
doing a little good.
Your coast seems remarkably rich in algae. Any from there, even dried in
a crude state and
cripp without preser-I could utilize for descriptive purposes.

They should be fresh collected and not made, unless they were to be at once
drawn up on paper
there. But do kindly understand, that I do not wish to burden anything on
you in your venerable age. Still you may take sometimes a walk along the seashore and
be willing to pick up a few such things with ~~me~~ but wish for your health &
happiness
