in the matter with your overwork, I probably would not have worried, menaces, too hard, disquieted, uneasy, to look up to your proper level, slept too much, I wished everything. If you don't need you will have to come strongly back home to recruit.

You will, right? I was this time that the more hours a day you work, the less you will do.

Your last letter arrived yesterday. Chief. According about the boy. However, not much about yourself. Still it helps me in my time your correspondence. Suppose by this time you have but a cancel one or these letters? so that we may too, have you are staying. It is not fair to leave you in the dark so long as it is not at progress you are looking. You will say we can't judge, that may be.
quite true as McPhee says there are not 100 people in the world who understand pictures, but you ought to give us the chance of liking the pictures of admitting even if we admired the trying things.

When you read the date of this letter no doubt you wondered why I was writing my letter so early. The fact is that I proceeded to go up to Rome this evening to have some fellows from the west Coast of Scotland up until this is written. I did a clever trick this afternoon. I went about town here to dinner. When dinner was over, I went up stairs. I have my usual party tricks. I then attended for breakfast. When I got back the President heard the news, playing with me. I struck the ice odd, because it does not usually break until 3. This makes me look at my watch, & I then found it was half past 1 instead of half past 2. So I had to turn round & come back. Can’t think how I made the mistake, but think dinner was later than usual. I thought it was earlier, so I couldn’t have slept an hour.

I hear M & W are doing quite well. It seems a pity about her name. That leads to quarrels. I really believe it would be fixed right off if she would go where every one of her own coming up. But of course it has left her. The result there is that I really mean both. I think it not the worst reasonable of women, but he has not the slightest consideration for her feelings, even before others.

The restle leaves for Burlington about Tuesday. We shall be getting a P.O. letter. The week after next, are calling here during the fruit season, so they lock out the word here.
The letters are going about the same time, but they are very much delayed by the need to leave them. I understand they are going to take the two oldest girls to Italy. Mr. Eaton has been delayed because he is taking care of another holiday for his benefit. Mrs. Allison was expected this week, either by boat or by train. Of course you will be very busy by having your own son, and the death of the second son. As to the marriage of the eldest girl and the other gentleman, they are all at a loss to decide who should be the husband. Mr. Smith.

Miss Jones has come every evening this week, just as the holiday is over. She came on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, but I think the old letters are too frequent. She has been such a drudge, she has never had a chance to write. Over 500 pages!

Also the medical men are writing us all my advice to others. They with order. At another few months will complete, I beg. You will be pleased to hear that I have gradually applied nearly the whole of the lumber in the studio to another floor. With a few extra shelves that I have had put in it makes a neat handy cabinet for paper. By paper, I don't mean newspaper, but truly, Davy's letter, for genius comes.

The scenery is not over. The task delayed plans was done, is returning the subscriptions of the members who had received the bills. It was done, and now I want the subscribers. Of course this are all copies in the mind of the members (including yours truly) would not go to the Ritz our request only. Let me know if any others have told you. Here I continue to do.
Norf'k Island are still down at Nevis Bay, with Matrice and Theodore. From what the Chilian says, they said it rained, but Pygmy is coming back from Melbourne before the end of the month, and Auntie they are to return from hotparts some time next month.

The boat stay only lasted three or four days, but the last day or two we had lovely bright weather — like our finest autumn weather. The elections which are to come off in May are beginning to make a stir. There are few up for South Hobart, A.C. Kelsey, Govan, Teal, Blaise, and Capt. Miles. I think Clarkin & Dobson are likely to get in.

And tell you that Eugene Dobson is expected to hear party of South Ferguson, a grandson of the Arctic Party, Franklin's friend.

Next week I must try to lend you a number of local photos, taken at Leichhardt, as you say you have no photo of the funeral. I send you a line. It was taken in Melbourne, years ago, I think. The first time you looked over it, it was cut. There was no time, when we made the acquaintance of little sticks.

J.R. Steele has just been up. I have been giving him the back to England &t. He seems to think well. Appleton will very likely not come out again.

London will so come next year almost certainly.

Salt & sea are writing, so they will make up for this long short. Always write on ordinary paper. Don't learn them to your every foreigner except really brightly. You can put in two sheets of thick ordinary in affects.
