Step 2. Copyright and proprietary content in your thesis

You must identify copyright material and other content in your thesis, which you do not have the right to make publicly accessible for proprietary or legal reasons. This may include for example third party owned images, data compilations or substantial amounts of text such as published articles. Please identify such material in the table below so that Library staff can exclude it from the openly accessible version of your thesis. If you run out of room, please copy the table below to a new page and add the entries. Need more information? Contact Library, Discovery Services on (03) 6226 1895 or oa.repository@utas.edu.au
