TAMAS NAME.

When I had digested in my Mind upon what Occasions I would appear in either of them, and laid them in proper Order, Pedro, and I went several Days to work with the Net, and caught abundance of Fish, which I salted, and dried; and we cut a great Quantity of long Grass to dry, and spread in my Tent, for the lower Gentry, and made up a little Cock of it; we also cut, and piled up a large Parcel of Fire-wood; and as I had now about thirty of the best Fish-skins, each of which would cover four Chairs, I nailed them on for Cushions to my Chairs, and the rest I sewed together, and made Rugs of them.

I had observed, that my Brother Quangrallort, and Raffig, neither of them had Beards, and as they were quite smooth chinned, I conjectured that none of their Countrymen had any; so, says I, if that is the case, as I have now both Scissars, and Razors; I will e'en cut off mine, to be like them; I then set up my Gla's, taking my Scissars in hand; but had not quite elosed them for a Snip, when I considered, that as I was not of their Country; and was so different from them in other
