Measure for Bidet

Length 19 inches & perhaps ~~perhaps~~ an eighth part of an inch.

Breadth in the broadest part ~~10~~ $10\frac{1}{4}$ inches Do — in the narrow end inches 10 but should it not be quite the size we must wedge it up if you cannot obtain an earthen ware one perhaps a zinc one would answer better only it would be ~~have~~ better to have a small plug in to draw the water out than always lift any it out every time but should you ask Warbottle he can tell whether they can be procured or made at a moderate price

Line perforated for the safe I draw now some at Andrew's shop on a former visit to N. J. Now Marashi Shop at G^d or S^d a sheet it being of different sizes

Longest length ~~26~~ inches Shortest ~~19~~ 31
Breadth ¹⁹ 22 inches Harrowed ~~to~~ ~~18~~ 18 perhaps it will be best to have it all in one piece & cut it ourselves but let it be finely perforated proper to keep the flies out of Sages my 2 lengths 22 & 26

~~22 & 26~~ Breadth ~~19~~ 20 inches as you are so good a calculator you must add. I divide it yourself but I have not allowed any thing for fixing it to the groove in the wood if the sheets are too long we can easily pare a little of in the breadth or length as my measure is only just the mere length & breadth without paper - 2 iron bedstead not too large for one person - plate basket

When do you think you will return home - Sarah is quite delighted with her Piano Miss Hector plays very nicely & admires the instrument I long very much to hear as good a player as Miss Power play upon it - are there any vessels expected soon I wish we had the branches - I am very much at a loss for servants bedsteads I think if you could procure ~~one~~ single bedstead quite plain & no tester they would answer & perhaps be as cheap as making wooden ones now labour is so high. I did not send my letter yesterday as in the morning we had a little rain & which has cooled the air but this morning we have fine sunshine which I think is better for the harvest people. Mother has nearly finished all her work Mrs Lewis & her son with Charles & Miss Allison called at Rosedale on their way to Steamhale - Mr Lewis seems a kind hearted woman - in the evening the Archdeacon & Mrs Arnold carriage servant & Bailey I am obliged to keep Shair & his wife until they go tomorrow morning when I will dispatch them recollect what I say about not having into a great a heavy an expensive servant - will you call upon Mr Trenbule & say I was very sorry I was not at home when she called & also not to have known earlier that she had been so many days at Mr Mackerrey & that she had been so unwell there I should have been most happy for her to have passed at night at Rosedal - we must avoid giving any invitation till we get better servants or those a little more used to the work I hope cause of your not writing today is not caused by indisposition I am I am ashamed to send you such scrawls but when I begin to write I write fast & my pen always soon blunt the ink thickens I have
